eco-sustainability & high performance

Amazonia is Carvico's innovative, eco-friendly fabric using BIOPHYL™ from ADVANSA that guarantees softness, comfort and technicality. From beachwear and competition swimwear to running, trekking and cycling.

37% of the polymer used in BIOPHYL™ consists of renewable raw materials. In comparison to Nylon the production of this polymer reduces CO₂ emission up to 63% and energy consumption up to 30%. This contributes to reducing the greenhouse effect and the ecological footprint.
