

CARVICO S.p.A., a company specializing in the Research and Development of new fabrics, knitting, dyeing and finishing processes for warp knitted fabrics for sportswear, underwear, swimwear and corsetry, has always been committed to safeguarding the environment.

Since its early days, Carvico has stood out for its practical approach to the protection and preservation of the eco-system of the area it operates in. A convinced supporter of an eco-friendly culture, it has been working to spread awareness about environmental issues among its staff and to implement its "Green vision" in the various stages of its production process: from the selection of raw materials to the delivery of fabrics to customers.

With the view to ensure a consistent and continuous management of the environmental issues deriving from the activities carried out in its premises (Carvico (SG), via Don Pedrinelli n. 96, Carvico S.p.A.), the company has been applying an Environmental Management System compliant with UNI EN ISO 14001:2015 standard.

Furthermore, the Company, having considered all internal and external factors connected to the local territory, the social-financial, cultural and organization context of the area, and its stakeholders' needs and requirements, has committed to respect all the legal prescriptions and obligations thereof and to operate with the aim to prevent pollution and reduce the environmental impact of both its processes and its products lifecycle.

Carvico S.p.A. intends to keep operating in such a way as to preserve the environment and to promote continuous improvement by consistently implementing its Environmental Management System, with the aim to:

- Comply with all environmental laws and regulations, including all obligations spontaneously taken on by the Company itself;
- Carefully manage all the environmental aspects, especially those which are more relevant for its activity such as:
 - The use of raw materials, trying to select recycled ones and to cut down on wastes.
 - The consumption of water and energy, investing on the independent production of power, the recovery of heat and the saving of water;
 - Emissions in the atmosphere, by optimizing the current fumes treatment plant;

- Water discharge, by monitoring, controlling and treating the waste water deriving from the production;
- Achieving a specific set of measurable targets in line with the Policy herein, which also consider the specific and more relevant environmental aspects connected to the company activity;
- Deploying the necessary resources needed for implementing the Policy herein and for achieving the defined targets, and for developing the related programmes and for consistently monitoring their progress;
- Spreading awareness among the company staff operating inside the company premises about environmental performance and about the preventive measures to be adopted to prevent/reduce environmental impacts.

The Company top management shall supply all the resources needed for the development and maintenance of the whole environmental project. The whole company staff shall be involved and shall commit to operated for the continuous improvement of the processes, in compliance with the policy herein.

The Environmental Policy herein is circulated among the whole staff, and notified to suppliers and subcontractors; it is also available to be checked by the public and by whoever may ask for it.

The Company also commits to periodically review the Policy herein at every Review Interval or in case of specific requirements.
